WHAT IS COLLABORATIVE LAW? and is it for me?

What is Collaborative Law?

Unlike traditional divorce where a judge makes the decisions, you and your spouse agree upon the decisions, resulting in an outcome customized to the specific and unique needs of your family.

How are decisions made?

Yes. Each party is represented by a Collaboratively-trained attorney. These attorneys are dedicated to creating a mutually beneficial settlement.

Who else is involved?

If helpful, your collaborative can include other neutral professionals: financial specialists, coaches and other experts to assist with challenges that arise.

Will I need an attorney?

Costs tend to be manageable and predictable, unlike traditional litigation. The team model is financially efficient, especially with the use of experts.

What about the costs?

Costs tend to be manageable and predictable, unlike traditional litigation. The team model is financially efficient, especially with the use of experts.

Does it take longer?

Along with your team of professionals, you and your spouse control the timeline. The scheduling of meetings is done within the flexibility and confinements of your schedule.

How are decisions made?

Your family is at the center of decision-making, so the impact is as positive as possible. Planning for their future, including addressing milestones, are all considered.

How does it affect my family?

Your family is at the center of decision-making, so the impact is as positive as possible. Planning for their future, including addressing milestones, are all considered.

and is it for me?

www.grblaw.com